A Chara

I note from your website there have been significant numbers of submissions regarding the Swords area. I would like to add my voice to this.

It would be lunacy to move the Dubber and Kilsallaghan Electoral Divisions into Dublin West. They are connected with Swords.

Similarly any changes to Portmarnock would be ill received and serve no useful purpose beyond adding up the numbers. We need constituencies that reflect communities.

Let Dublin Fingal remain a five seat constituency. We will be slightly under represented compared to the national average but well within the 5% threshold.

Is mise le meas
