

Commissioners

I would like the forthcoming commission to do away with three seater constituencies in Dublin.

The reduction of the old five seater Dublin South to the three seater Rathdown in the 2012 revision was particularly drastic, and I think Rathdown should be made a four seater by transferring back the Templeogue/Ballyboden areas from Dublin South West, thus making South West a four seater also.

On the north side I think that Dublin Central, North West, Fingal and Dublin Bay North should each become four seaters.

Consideration should be given to using the M50 as a boundary in more locations (eg as a northern boundary to Dublin South West).

Finally the Dublin Bay names should be done away with and the old names of North East and South East revived. In any event the name Dublin Bay South is more appropriate to Dun Laoghaire than Dublin SE - Dublin SE could be called Sandymount Strand.

Aidan Ward