

To whom it may concern ,

Yesterday I sent an email with regards to the redrawing of the boundary for Dublin Central and increased representation, on further reflection having lived in the same house all my life I feel I have absolutely no connection with Dublin West, we are underrepresented and ignored, not one candidate called to my front door from any party in the last election.

Dublin West is not the natural hinterland for this area- as it stands Skreen road bizarrely is split right down the middle. Ashtown was always the cut off point- whoever designed the new boundary had scant regard for the needs of the former constituents of Dublin Central. I'm not interested what happens in Castlknock, Blanchardstown, Corduff or anywhere else in that neck of the woods. I am interested what happens in Manor St, Blackhorse Ave, Navan Road, Phibbsboro and other adjoining areas that I have an affinity with.

I am very annoyed with the situation and I feel quite disenfranchised with this boundary as it now stands, Please reinstate the old boundary forthwith,

Regards,
Peter Fox
